

Senior Estimator – Vetter UK

UK Locations considered

Vetter UK is the specialist stone contractor within the Laing O'Rourke group and a leading company within the UK stone industry. Vetter UK offer their clients the total package, from the beginning of a project through to completion. Services include material investigation, sourcing and selection, technical and 'in-house' design advice, manufacture, delivery and installation for all work types.

We are looking for a Senior Estimator to provide estimating support to Vetter UK, bringing added value to existing operations through the application of innovative solutions and technical expertise. You will have sole responsibility for the estimating process and interfacing with the business.

You will get the chance to work on projects across the UK, ranging from £0.5m - £15m in value.

For further information on this role, please contact contact@cellence-select.com.

