

LLOYD & SMITH

CONSERVATION | RESTORATION

Skilled Banker Masons

We are a traditional restoration company based in Oldham and are looking to employ skilled banker masons for our varied and interesting projects.

You will need extensive experience in banker masonry, be a self starter able to work under your own steam and also as part of a team, have high output and quality.

The role will be based at our workshop in Oldham but may also include visits to sites to take stone measurements for ordering and therefore it is essential you can drive and have a valid CSCS card. You must be trustworthy and reliable. The job will involve some intricate works and therefore carving skills are required along with the ability to make templates.

The positions have the potential to be a long term employment for the right candidates with the possibility of the use of a company vehicle. There will be the opportunity to work extra time when the job requires it.

The applicants must have proof of skills and ability and be willing to attend a face to face interview in Oldham. Please send your CV in the first instance to info@lloydandsmith.co.uk for the attention of Bryan Smith.
