

AMARESTONE

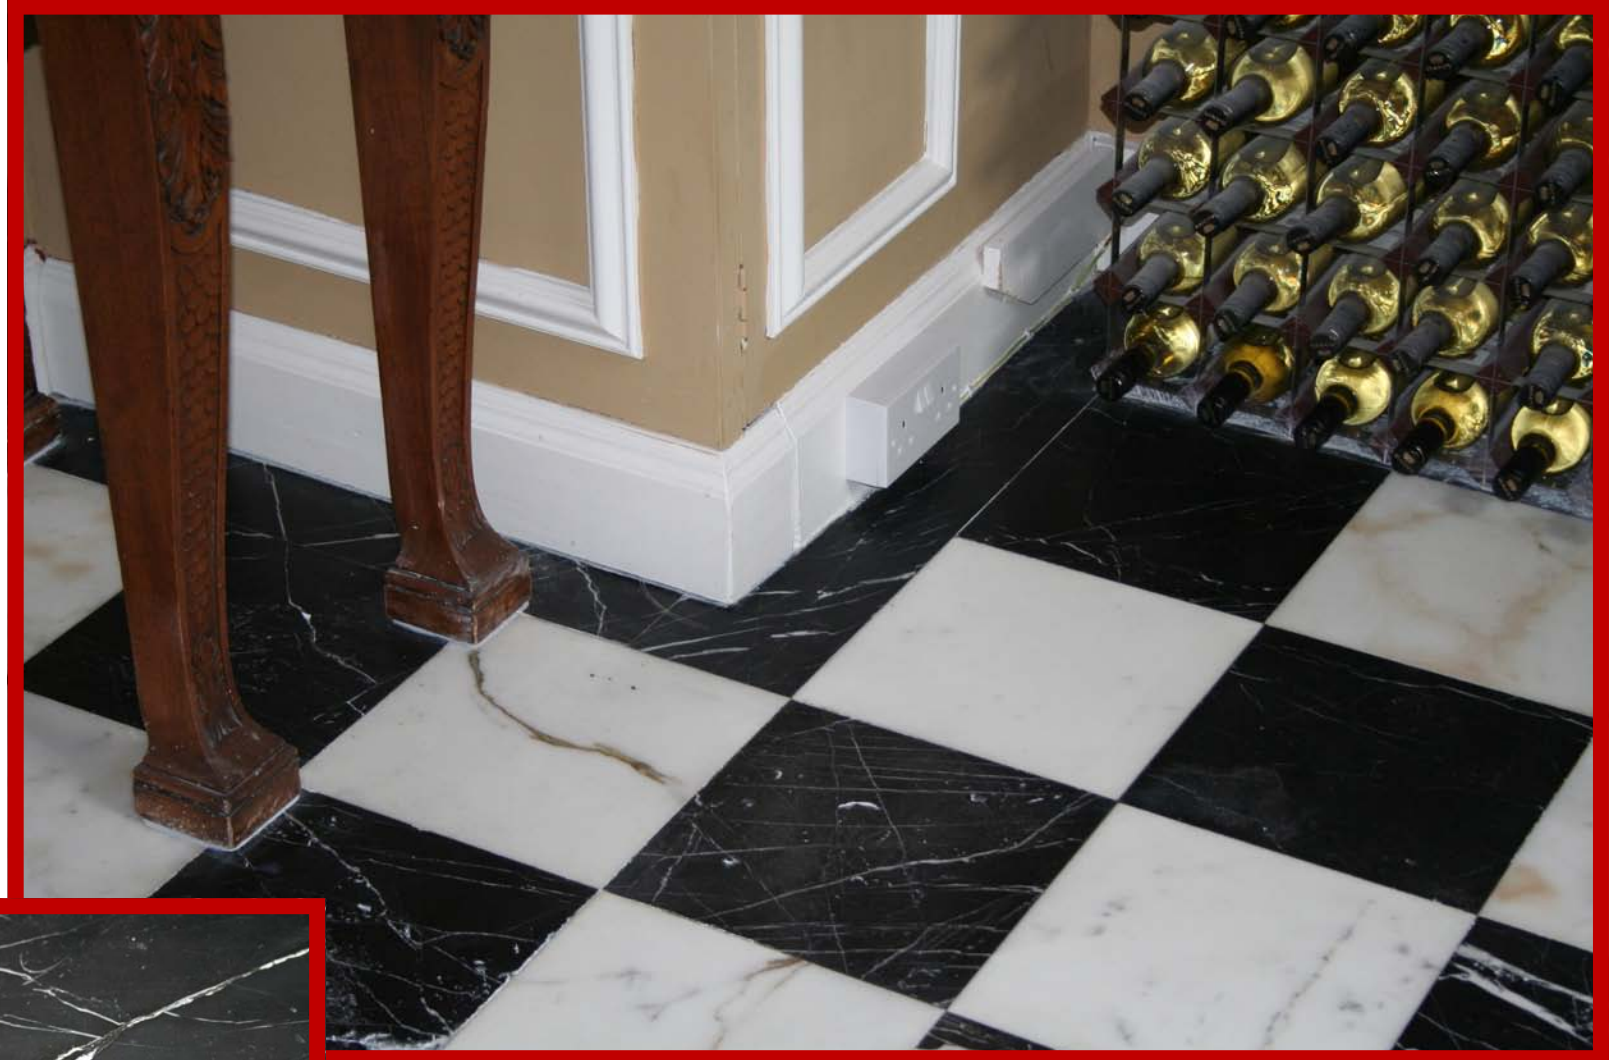

...love stone

REQUIREMENTS:

- 100 year old black and white marble floor in need of cleaning
- Broken marble step in need of repair
- New floor to match existing as closely as possible

SOLUTION:

- Identify and source marble
- Repair broken step
- Clean and re-polish old floor.
- Install new floor.

Far left: Original broken step
Left: Repaired step before cleaning and polishing
Above: Existing floor cleaned and polished
Below: New floor in adjoining conservatory

“Now that John Montgomery has finished laying the marble floor in our conservatory and repairing our marble floored wine room, I feel I must let you know how impressed I have been with your professionalism from the day I contacted you through to the completion of the job.

As requested, you have matched the new marble in our conservatory to the antique marble in our wine room so closely that it is impossible to tell the difference.

Your estimates of timings were always adhered to and your advice and friendly manner were greatly appreciated.

John's workmanship was second to none and he was always polite, punctual and tidy. It is so rare in this day and age to receive this level of service and civility. Once again, thank you for your service.”

David Jennings, Private client, Chesham Bois, Bucks

